

Note: SMD = Single member districts. Small districts average three representatives.

PR = Proportional representation, several representatives elected from each large district in approximate proportion to the votes gained by each party or candidate.

Sources: Distribution of Seats Between Men and Women in National Parliaments (Geneva: Inter-Parliamentary Union, 1991); Enid Lakeman, Twelve Democracies: Electoral Systems in the European Community, rev. ed. (London: Arthur McDougall Fund, 1991), and Theodore McNelly, "Women Power in Japan's 1989 Upper House Election," in Wilma Rule and Joseph P. Zimmerman, eds., Electoral Systems in Comparative Perspective: Their Impact on Women and Minorities (Newport, CT: Greenwood Press, 1994).